‘This heart-wrenching story both educates and entertains, leaving you more aware of the world around you’
★★★★★ The Edge

‘The most insightful mental health piece I’ve seen at this year’s fringe’
★★★★★ Everything Theatre

At a time when mental health is increasingly making the headlines, yet still so many are unable to speak about their experience for fear of stigma, this show tells a personal story that will get people talking. A show about one son’s moving exploration into his mum’s mental health.

‘Informative, heart-breaking and expertly crafted’
